

Would you survive this crash?

On Wednesday, October 19, 2005, Journey Lee and Chris Fralin were presented with the Department's "Saved By the Belt" award.

Members of the Roanoke County Police Department, the media and the recipient's family and friends were present to hear the remarkable story of their survival as told by investigating officer, Officer A. D. Morris.

Incredibly, in the summer of 2005, Journey and Chris were traveling on a four lane divided highway in Roanoke County when their vehicle was struck by a vehicle from the opposite direction that had crossed the median in a curve.

Because Journey and Chris were wearing their seatbelts they were able to survive the crash and exit the vehicle just before it caught fire.
